Answer :

Boys' Hostel

Navodaya Vidyalaya, Dongargarh.

Dear Namya,

Happy Makar Sankranti!

Hope you enjoyed eating Til laddus and flying kites with your friends in the village. What other dish did chachi prepare at home? I missed you all very much but only till all our friends and our teachers assembled in the hostel to celebrate Makar Sankranti. Our Telugu friends prepared curd rice and payasam, our Marathi teacher prepared puran pooli and our Mathematics Madam had pitha for us to eat. Oh, there were so many varieties to eat and so many games to play that we all forgot that we are in the hostel. Our Principal Sir told us how Pongal is celebrated in the south and some of our friends had arranged for you tube videos on the Ganga sagar fairs in Uttar Pradesh & Westbengal.

So, this time it was great fun, but please keep some laddus safe for me too.

Wish you the very best.

Regards to elders

& lots of love .

Sharad.

India is a land of diversities in terms of language, caste, religion and customs

The more the variedness in the mass, the more the differences in customs and traditions

Since olden days Indian culture has been the most tolerant and loyal preserver of culture.

Many books in different Indian languages makes our country a great resource of creative writings.

Our society and our saints have also respected these diversities and lived to keep the values up in our country.
